PREFACE

This document is for VA procurement personnel assigned the user category of Requirements Analyst in the Integrated Funds Distribution, Control Point Monitoring, Accounting and Procurement (IFCAP) system.

In IFCAP, VA employees request goods by creating electronic purchase orders, requisitions and issue book requests. As requisitions are delivered to the warehouse, the Requirements Analyst updates the inventory records for the warehouse. Requirements Analysts also fulfill issue book requests by creating picking tickets. Warehouse clerks use these picking tickets to supply the items from warehouse stock. Requirements Analysts also create requisitions and purchase orders to replace the stock depleted by issue book requests. This manual explains how to use IFCAP as a tool to perform some of the Requirements Analyst functions.

CHAPTER 1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 The Role of the Requirements Analyst

VA employees request goods by creating electronic purchase orders, requisitions and issue book requests. As requisitions are delivered to the warehouse, the Requirements Analyst updates the inventory records for the warehouse. Requirements Analysts also fulfill issue book requests by creating picking tickets. Warehouse clerks use these picking tickets to supply the items from warehouse stock. Requirements Analysts also create requisitions and purchase orders to replace the stock depleted by issue book requests.

1.2 How to Use This Manual

This manual explains how to perform the role of the Requirements Analyst by dividing that role into small, manageable tasks. The authors of this manual have listed these tasks in successive order so that each instruction builds on the functionality and information from the previous instructions. This will allow new Requirements Analysts to use this manual as a tutorial by following the instructions from beginning to end. Experienced Requirements Analysts can use this manual as a reference tool by using the index and table of contents.

1.3 Reference Numbering System

This manual uses a special paragraph numbering system to allow users to understand how the sections of the manual relate to each other. For example, this paragraph is section 1.3. This means that this paragraph is the main paragraph for the third section of Chapter 1. If there were two subsections to this section, they would be numbered sections 1.3.1 and 1.3.2. A paragraph numbered 1.3.5.4.7 would be the seventh subsection of the fourth subsection of the fifth subsection of the third subsection of Chapter 1. All clear? Actually, all this means is that users that want to divide their reading into manageable lessons can concentrate on one section and all of its subsections, e.g., section 1.3.5.4 and all of its subsections would make a coherent lesson.

1.4 Package Management, Legal Requirements and Security Measures

In order to use IFCAP to create orders, users are given access to a set of IFCAP menu options designed for their use. Some of these menu options are additionally controlled by the use of access “keys”. These access keys are administered to individual users by the Information Resources Management Service at their facility. Also, each user is assigned a “signature code” that functions legally as their signature. Users must enter this signature to create any form in IFCAP that would require an authorizing signature if they created the form manually.

1.5 Package Operation

Novice users will be unfamiliar with the information that some of the IFCAP prompts require. IFCAP provides three levels of explanations for the prompts. Enter a question mark at the prompt to read a description of the prompt, two question marks to read a more complex explanation of the prompt, and three question marks to read a complete description of the prompt and read a list of acceptable responses to the prompt.

2.4 Adjust Inventory Records

2.4.1 Introduction

Often, discrepancies between records and stock are due to unit-of-issue conflicts, e.g., where the requisition specifies 10 boxes of six cans each, and the warehouse clerk counted a stock of 60 cans. Follow the instructions in this section to adjust these and other discrepancies between stock records and actual stock.
